CLASS ACTION

COMPLAINT FOR VIOLATION OF THE FEDERAL SECURITIES LAWS

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

INTRODUCTION

2 1. Plaintiff, individually and on behalf of all the other persons similarly situated, by
3 plaintiff's undersigned attorneys, alleges the following based upon personal knowledge as to plaintiff
4 and plaintiff's own acts, and upon information and belief as to all other matters based on the 5 investigation conducted by and through plaintiff's attorneys, which included, among other things, a
6 review of Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") filings by Fitbit Inc. ("Fitbit" or the 7 "Company"), as well as conference call transcripts and media and analyst reports about the Company.
8 Plaintiff believes that substantial evidentiary support will exist for the allegations set forth herein after a
9 reasonable opportunity for discovery.
10

SUMMARY OF THE ACTION

11
12 2. This is a federal securities class action on behalf of a class consisting of all persons other
13 than defendants who purchased or otherwise acquired Fitbit securities: (1) pursuant and/or traceable to 14 FitBit's false and misleading Registration Statement and Prospectus issued in connection with the 15 Company's initial public offering on or about June 18, 2015 (the "IPO" or the "Offering"); and/or (2)
16 on the open market between June 18, 2015 and January 6, 2016, both dates inclusive, seeking to recover
17 compensable damages caused by defendants' violations of the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities
18 Act") and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act") (the "Class").
20

BACKGROUND

22 3. Fitbit manufactures and provides wearable fitness-tracking devices worldwide. The 23 Company's main products are wrist bands and clippable devices that purport to monitor a user's fitness
24 activity by tracking his/her health and fitness activities. Among the Company's products are Fitbit
25 Charge HR ("Charge HR"), a wireless heart rate and activity wristband, and Fitbit Surge ("Surge"), a
26 fitness watch that consists of a GPS watch, heart rate tracker, activity tracker, and smartwatch. Fitbit
27 Inc. sells its products primarily through retailers and distributors.
28

1 4. The Company was formerly known as Healthy Metrics Research, Inc. and changed its
2 name to Fitbit, Inc. in October 2007. The Company was founded in 2007 and is headquartered in San
3 Francisco, California. Fitbit's stock trades on the NYSE under the ticker symbol "FIT."

4 5. On or about June 18, 2015, Fitbit completed its IPO, issuing 36,575,000 shares and 5 raising net proceeds of approximately $732 million.

6 6. Defendants made materially false and misleading statements regarding the Company's
7 business, operational and compliance policies. Specifically, defendants made false and/or misleading
8 statements and/or failed to disclose that: (i) Fitbit's heart rate monitoring technology was inaccurate and
9 did not consistently deliver accurate heart rate readings during exercise; (ii) the inaccuracy of Fitbit's
10 heart rate monitoring technology posed serious health risks to users of Fitbit's products; and (iii) as a
11 result of the foregoing, Fitbit's public statements were materially false and misleading at all relevant 12 times.

14 7. On January 6, 2016, a class action lawsuit was reported as filed against Fitbit in the U.S.
15 District Court for the Northern District of California, alleging that the heart rate monitoring systems on
16 the Company's Charge HR and Surge devices were dangerously inaccurate and posed serious health
17 risks to users (McLellan et al. v. Fitbit, Inc., 3:16-cv-00036 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 5, 2016) (the "Fitbit
18 Consumer Class Action"). The claims against Fitbit include violations of California's Unfair
19 Competition Law and Consumers Legal Remedies Act, common law fraud, and unjust enrichment.

21 8. On this news, Fitbit's stock fell $1.40, or 5.8%, to close at $22.90 on January 6, 2016.

22 9. As a result of Defendants' false and/or misleading statements, Fitbit securities traded at 23 inflated prices. However, after disclosure of Defendants' false and/or misleading statements, Fitbit's 24 stock suffered a precipitous decline in market value, thereby causing significant losses and damages to 25 Plaintiff and other Class members.

SUBSTANTIVE ALLEGATIONS

Background

19. Fitbit manufactures and provides wearable fitness-tracking devices worldwide. The Company's main products are wrist bands and clippable devices that purport to monitor a user's fitness activity by tracking his/her health and fitness activities. Among the Company's products are Charge HR, a wireless heart rate and activity wristband, and Surge, a fitness watch that consists of a GPS watch, heart rate tracker, activity tracker, and smartwatch. Fitbit Inc. sells its products primarily through retailers and distributors.

20. The Company was formerly known as Healthy Metrics Research, Inc. and changed its name to Fitbit, Inc. in October 2007. The Company was founded in 2007 and is headquartered in San Francisco, California. Fitbit’s stock trades on the NYSE under the ticker symbol “FIT.”

21. On May 7, 2015, Fitbit filed a registration statement on Form S-1 with the SEC in connection with the IPO. The registration statement was subsequently amended several times, with the final amended registration statement filed on Form S-1/A with the SEC on June 16, 2015 (collectively, the “Registration Statement”).

22. The Registration Statement contained a preliminary prospectus. The final prospectus (the “Prospectus”) was filed with the SEC on June 18, 2015.

23. On June 17, 2015, the SEC declared the Registration Statement effective.

24. On or about June 18, 2015, the Company completed its IPO, issuing 36,575,000 shares and raising net proceeds of approximately $732 million.

The Alleged False and Misleading Statements

25. On June 18, 2015, Fitbit filed its Prospectus with the SEC, which forms part of the Registration Statement. In the Prospectus, the Company stated, in relevant part:

Our Competitive Strengths—What Sets Us Apart

We believe the following strengths will allow us to maintain and extend our leadership position:

- Leading market position and global brand. Our singular focus on building a connected health and fitness platform, coupled with our leading market share, has led to our brand becoming synonymous with the connected health and fitness category. According to The NPD Group, we had the highest selling connected activity trackers in the United States in the first quarter of 2015, with an 85% share of the U.S. connected activity tracker market, by dollars, up from 70% for the year 2014 and 59% for the year 2013. In addition, according to The NPD Group, Fitbit Surge, which we began selling in December 2014, was the highest selling GPS fitness watch in the United States in the first quarter of 2015, with a 61% share of the U.S. GPS fitness watch market, by dollars, up from 3% in 2014.*

- Advanced, purpose-built hardware and software technologies. Our connected health and fitness devices leverage industry-standard technologies, such as Bluetooth low energy, as well as proprietary technologies, such as our PurePulse continuous heart rate tracking, and our algorithms that more accurately measure and analyze user health and fitness metrics. Our online and mobile apps provide in-depth analysis and guidance and our highly-scalable cloud infrastructure enables millions of users around the world to engage with our platform in real-time.

Our Devices

We believe everyone's approach to fitness is different, so we have created products with a wide variety of styles, sizes, features, and price points.

- Fitbit Charge HR is a wireless heart rate and activity wristband that has all the features available on the Fitbit Charge and also includes our proprietary PurePulse heart rate tracking technology. Fitbit Charge HR has a U.S. MSRP of $149.95.

- Fitbit Surge is our fitness “super watch” that combines popular features of a GPS watch, heart rate tracker, activity tracker, and smartwatch. Fitbit Surge has a U.S. MSRP of $249.95.

Our Users

Active users exercise regularly to reach their fitness goals through activities such as running, using cardio equipment, and playing sports recreationally. As a result, these users are often interested in monitoring exercise intensity through heart rate tracking in addition to activity tracking. We primarily market the Fitbit Charge HR to Active users.

Performance users train regularly to improve their performance and achieve their personal bests. These users participate in endurance sports and fitness activities with higher intensity and longer duration, such as interval or distance running and cycling, and thrive on personal improvement and competition. Accordingly, these users are interested in GPS tracking of speed, distance, and exercise routes, in addition to heart rate and daily activity tracking. We primarily market the Fitbit Surge to Performance users.

26. The Registration Statement was signed by the Individual Defendants.

27. On August 5, 2015, Fitbit issued a press release and filed a Form 8-K with the SEC announcing the Company’s financial and operating results for the quarter ended June 30, 2015 (the “Q2 2015 8-K”). For the quarter, the Company reported net income of $17.68 million, or $0.07 per diluted share, on revenue of $400.41 million, compared to net income of $14.75 million on revenue of $113.57 million for the same period in the prior year.

28. On August 7, 2015, Fitbit filed a quarterly report on Form 10-Q with the SEC reiterating the financial and operating results previously announced in the Q2 2015 8-K (the “Q2 2015 10-Q”).

29. The Q2 2015 10-Q contained signed certifications pursuant to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (“SOX”) by the Individual Defendants, stating that the financial information contained in the Q2 2015 10-Q was accurate and disclosed any material changes to the Company’s internal control over financial reporting.

30. On November 2, 2015, Fitbit issued a press release and filed a Form 8-K with the SEC announcing the Company’s financial and operating results for the quarter ended September 30, 2015

(the “Q3 2015 8-K”). For the quarter, the Company reported net income of $45.83 million, or $0.19 per diluted share, on revenue of $409.26 million, compared to net income of $68.91 million on revenue of $152.86 million for the same period in the prior year.

31. In the Q3 2015 8-K, under the heading “Third Quarter 2015 Financial Highlights,” Fitbit announced that “Charge, Charge HR and Surge comprised 79% of revenue.”

32. On November 2, 2015, Fitbit also filed a quarterly report on Form 10-Q with the SEC reiterating the financial and operating results previously announced in the Q3 2015 8-K (the “Q3 2015 10-Q”).

33. The Q3 2015 10-Q contained signed certifications pursuant to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (“SOX”) by the Individual Defendants, stating that the financial information contained in the Q3 2015 10-Q was accurate and disclosed any material changes to the Company’s internal control over financial reporting.

34. On November 2, 2015, Fitbit filed a registration statement and prospectus on Form S-1 with the SEC in connection with a secondary offering of the Company’s securities (the “Secondary Offering S-1”). In the Secondary Offering 424B4, Fitbit stated, in relevant part:

- Advanced, purpose-built hardware and software technologies. Our connected health and fitness devices leverage industry-standard technologies, such as Bluetooth low energy, as well as proprietary technologies, such as our PurePulse continuous heart rate tracking, and our algorithms that more accurately measure and analyze user health and fitness metrics. - Fitbit Surge is our fitness “super watch” that combines popular features of a GPS watch, heart rate tracker, activity tracker, and smartwatch. Fitbit Surge has a U.S. MSRP of $249.95.

Active users exercise regularly to reach their fitness goals through activities such as running, using cardio equipment, and playing sports recreationally. As a result, these users are often interested in monitoring exercise intensity through heart rate tracking in addition to activity tracking. We primarily market the Fitbit Charge HR to Active users.

Performance users train regularly to improve their performance and achieve their personal bests. These users participate in endurance sports and fitness activities with higher intensity and longer duration, such as interval or distance running and cycling, and thrive on personal improvement and competition. Accordingly, these users are interested in GPS tracking of speed, distance, and exercise routes, in addition to heart rate and daily activity tracking. We primarily market the Fitbit Surge to Performance users.

35. On November 3, 2015, defendant Park was interviewed for a Bloomberg Radio segment entitled “The Bloomberg Advantage,” a transcript of which Fitbit subsequently filed with the SEC on Form FWP on November 6, 2015 (the “Bloomberg Interview Transcript”). In the Bloomberg Interview Transcript, defendant Park stated, in part:

Sometimes we just have to wait for technology to really reach maturity, so for instance, our Pure Pulse optical heart rate technology, which is in our Charge HR and Surge devices took over three years to develop, and so, you know, that’s resulted in two products which are incredible leaders in the categories. So Fitbit Charge HR is a number one wearable activity tracking device in the market today and Fitbit Surge is the number one GPS fitness watch, so I think that’s a great example of how our technology development has resulted in really break-through products.

36. On November 9, 2015, Fitbit filed an amended registration statement and prospectus on Form S-1/A with the SEC in connection with a secondary offering of the Company’s securities (the

1 “Secondary Offering S-1/A”). In the Secondary Offering S-1/A, Fitbit reiterated the statements
2 contained in the Company’s Secondary Offering S-1 described above at ¶ 34.

3 37. On November 13, 2015, Fitbit filed a prospectus on Form 424B4 with the SEC in 4 connection with a secondary offering of the Company’s securities (the “Secondary Offering 424B4”).
5 In the Secondary Offering 424B4, the Company reiterated the statements contained in the Company’s
6 Secondary Offering S-1 described above at ¶¶ 34 and 36.

8 38. The statements referenced in ¶¶ 25-37 were materially false and misleading because
9 defendants made false and/or misleading statements, as well as failed to disclose material adverse facts
10 about the Company’s business, operational and compliance policies. Specifically, defendants made
11 false and/or misleading statements and/or failed to disclose that: (i) Fitbit’s heart rate monitoring
12 technology was inaccurate and did not consistently deliver accurate heart rate readings during exercise;
13 (ii) the inaccuracy of Fitbit’s heart rate monitoring technology posed serious health risks to users of 14 Fitbit’s products; and (iii) as a result of the foregoing, Fitbit’s public statements were materially false
15 and misleading at all relevant times.
16

17 The Truth Emerges

18 39. On January 6, 2016, a class action lawsuit was reported as filed against Fitbit in the U.S.
19 District Court for the Northern District of California, alleging that the heart rate monitoring systems on
20 the Company's Charge HR and Surge devices were dangerously inaccurate and posed serious health
21 risks to users (McLellan et al. v. Fitbit, Inc., 3:16-cv-00036 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 5, 2016)). The claims
22 against Fitbit include violations of California's Unfair Competition Law and Consumers Legal 23 Remedies Act, common law fraud, and unjust enrichment.
24

25 40. Specifically, the complaint in the Fitbit Consumer Class Action alleged that by 26 understating a user’s heart rate, the inaccurate heart rate monitoring systems in Fitbit’s Charge HR and 27 Surge devices created a risk of life-threatening overexertion. For example:
28

At an intense personal training session in mid-June 2015, Plaintiff[s] personal trainer manually recorded her heart rate, which was 160 beats per minute (“bpm”). In stark contrast, her Charge HR indicated her heart rate was only 82 bpm. Plaintiff Black was approaching the maximum recommended heart rate for her age, and if she had continued to rely on her inaccurate PurePulse Tracker, she may well have exceeded it, thereby jeopardizing her health and safety.

41. On this news, Fitbit’s stock fell $1.40, or 5.8%, to close at $22.90 on January 6, 2016.

42. As a result of Defendants’ false and/or misleading statements, Fitbit securities traded at inflated prices. However, after disclosure of Defendants’ false and/or misleading statements, Fitbit’s stock suffered a precipitous decline in market value, thereby causing significant losses and damages to Plaintiff and other Class members.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

43. Plaintiff brings this action as a class action pursuant to Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on behalf of the Class (as defined supra at ¶ 2). Excluded from the Class are defendants and their family members, directors and officers of Fitbit and their families and affiliates.

44. The members of the Class are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. The disposition of their claims in a class action will provide substantial benefits to the parties and the Court. Fitbit has more than 100 million shares of stock outstanding, owned by hundreds or thousands of persons.

45. There is a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law and fact involved in this case. Questions of law and fact common to the members of the Class that predominate over questions that may affect individual Class members include:

- (a) Whether the Securities Act was violated by defendants;
- (b) Whether the Exchange Act was violated by defendants;
- (c) Whether defendants omitted and/or misrepresented material facts;

1 (d) Whether defendants' statements omitted material facts necessary in order to make
2 the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;

3 (e) Whether defendants knew or recklessly disregarded that their statements were 4 false and misleading;

5 (f) Whether the price of Fitbit common stock was artificially inflated; and

6 (g) The extent of damage sustained by Class members and the appropriate measure
7 of damages.

9 46. Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of the Class because plaintiff and the Class
10 sustained damages from defendants' wrongful conduct.

11 47. Plaintiff will adequately protect the interests of the Class and has retained counsel who 12 are experienced in class action securities litigation. Plaintiff has no interests which conflict with those 13 of the Class.

15 48. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient
16 adjudication of this controversy.

17 NO SAFE HARBOR

18 49. Fitbit's verbal "Safe Harbor" warnings accompanying its oral forward-looking 19 statements ("FLS") were ineffective to shield those statements from liability.

21 50. The defendants are also liable for any false or misleading FLS pleaded because, at the 22 time each FLS was made, the speaker knew the FLS was false or misleading and the FLS was 23 authorized and/or approved by an executive officer of Fitbit who knew that the FLS was false. None of 24 the historic or present tense statements made by defendants were assumptions underlying or relating to 25 any plan, projection or statement of future economic performance, as they were not stated to be such 26 assumptions underlying or relating to any projection or statement of future economic performance when 27

1 made, nor were any of the projections or forecasts made by defendants expressly related to or stated to
2 be dependent on those historic or present tense statements when made.

3 APPLICABILITY OF PRESUMPTION OF RELIANCE:
4 FRAUD ON THE MARKET

5 51. Plaintiff will rely upon the presumption of reliance established by the fraud-on-the-
6 market doctrine in that, among other things:

- 7 (a) Defendants made public misrepresentations or failed to disclose material facts;
8 (b) The omissions and misrepresentations were material;
9 (c) The Company's stock traded in an efficient market;
10 (d) The misrepresentations alleged would tend to induce a reasonable investor to 11 misjudge the value of the Company's stock; and 12

13 (e) Plaintiff and other members of the Class purchased Fitbit common stock between 14 the time defendants misrepresented or failed to disclose material facts and the time the true facts were 15 disclosed, without knowledge of the misrepresented or omitted facts.
16

17 52. At all relevant times, the market for Fitbit's common stock was efficient for the 18 following reasons, among others:

- 19 (a) As a regulated issuer, Fitbit filed periodic public reports with the SEC; and 20 (b) Fitbit regularly communicated with public investors via established market
21 communication mechanisms, including through regular dissemination of press releases on the major 22 news wire services and through other wide-ranging public disclosures, such as communications with 23 the financial press, securities analysts and other similar reporting services
24

25 53. As a result of the foregoing, the market for Fitbit's securities promptly digested current 26 information regarding Fitbit from all publicly available sources and reflected such information in 27 Fitbit's stock price. Under these circumstances, all purchasers of Fitbit's securities at relevant times suffered similar injury through their purchases of Fitbit's securities at artificially inflated prices, and a presumption of reliance applies.
28

COUNT I
Violation of Section 10(b) of The Exchange Act
and Rule 10b-5 Promulgated Thereunder Against All Defendants

54. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained above as if fully set forth herein.

55. Defendants carried out a plan, scheme and course of conduct which was intended to and did: (1) deceive the investing public, including Plaintiff and other Class members, as alleged herein; and (2) cause Plaintiff and other members of the Class to purchase Fitbit's securities at artificially inflated prices. In furtherance of this unlawful scheme, plan and course of conduct, each of the Defendants took the actions set forth herein.

56. Defendants: (a) employed devices, schemes, and artifices to defraud; (b) made untrue statements of material fact and/or omitted to state material facts necessary to make the statements not misleading; and (c) engaged in acts, practices, and a course of business that operated as a fraud and deceit upon the purchasers of the Company's securities in an effort to maintain artificially high market prices for Fitbit securities in violation of Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder. All Defendants are sued either as primary participants in the wrongful and illegal conduct charged herein or as controlling persons as alleged below.

57. Defendants, individually and in concert, directly and indirectly, by the use, means or instrumentalities of interstate commerce and/or of the mails, engaged and participated in a continuous course of conduct to conceal adverse material information about the business and future prospects of Fitbit as specified herein.

1 58. These Defendants employed devices, schemes, and artifices to defraud while in
2 possession of material adverse non-public information, and engaged in acts, practices, and a course of 3 conduct as alleged herein in an effort to assure investors of Fitbit's value and performance and
4 continued substantial growth, which included the making of, or participation in the making of, untrue
5 statements of material facts and omitting to state material facts necessary in order to make the 6 statements made about Fitbit and its business operations and future prospects in the light of the 7 circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, as set forth more particularly herein, and
8 engaged in transactions, practices and a course of business that operated as a fraud and deceit upon the 9 purchasers of Fitbit securities.

11 59. Each of the Individual Defendants' primary liability, and controlling person liability,
12 arises from the following facts: (1) the Individual Defendants were high-level executives, directors,
13 and/or agents at the Company at all relevant times and members of the Company's management team
14 or had control thereof; (2) each of these Defendants, by virtue of his responsibilities and activities as a
15 senior officer and/or director of the Company, was privy to and participated in the creation,
16 development and reporting of the Company's business prospects and operations; (3) each of these 17 Defendants enjoyed significant personal contact and familiarity with the other Defendants and was 18 advised of and had access to other members of the Company's management team, internal reports and 19 other data and information about the Company's operations and business projects at all relevant times;
20 and (4) each of these Defendants was aware of the Company's dissemination of information to the 21 investing public which they knew or recklessly disregarded was materially false and misleading.
22

23 60. Defendants had actual knowledge of the misrepresentations and omissions of material
24 facts set forth herein, or acted with reckless disregard for the truth in that they failed to ascertain and to 25 disclose such facts, even though such facts were available to them. Such Defendants' material
26 misrepresentations and/or omissions were done knowingly or recklessly and for the purpose and effect
27
28

1 of concealing the Company's flawed manufacturing processes, thereby artificially inflating price of its
2 securities. As demonstrated by Defendants' omissions and misstatements of the Company's business
3 strategy, Defendants, if they did not have actual knowledge of the misrepresentations and omissions
4 alleged, were reckless in failing to obtain such knowledge by deliberately refraining from taking those 5 steps necessary to discover whether those statements were false or misleading.

7 61. As a result of the dissemination of the materially false and misleading information and
8 failure to disclose material facts, as set forth above, the market price of Fitbit securities was artificially
9 inflated. In ignorance of the fact that market prices of Fitbit's securities were artificially inflated, and 10 relying directly or indirectly on the false and misleading statements made by Defendants, or upon the 11 integrity of the market in which the securities trade, and/or on the absence of material adverse
12 information that was known to or recklessly disregarded by Defendants but not disclosed in public
13 statements by Defendants, Plaintiff and the other members of the Class acquired Fitbit securities at 14 artificially high prices and were or will be damaged thereby.

15
16 62. At the time of said misrepresentations and omissions, Plaintiff and other members of the 17 Class were ignorant of their falsity, and believed them to be true. Had Plaintiff and the other members
18 of the Class and the marketplace known the truth regarding the Company's flawed manufacturing
19 processes, which was not disclosed by Defendants, Plaintiff and other members of the Class would not
20 have purchased or otherwise acquired their Fitbit securities, or, if they had acquired such securities,
21 they would not have done so at the artificially inflated prices that they paid.

23 63. By virtue of the foregoing, Defendants have violated Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act,
24 and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder.

26 64. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful conduct, Plaintiff and the other
27 members of the Class suffered damages in connection with their respective purchases and sales of the 28 Company's securities.

65. This action was filed within two years of discovery of the fraud and within five years of each plaintiff's purchases of securities giving rise to the cause of action.

COUNT II

Violation of Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act Against the Individual Defendants

66. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation contained above as if fully set forth herein.

67. The Individual Defendants acted as controlling persons of Fitbit within the meaning of Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act as alleged herein. By virtue of their high-level positions, agency, ownership and contractual rights, and participation in and/or awareness of the Company's operations and/or intimate knowledge of the false financial statements filed by the Company with the SEC and disseminated to the investing public, the Individual Defendants had the power to influence and control, and did influence and control, directly or indirectly, the decision-making of the Company, including the content and dissemination of the various statements that Plaintiff contends are false and misleading.
